After party coming home
Why all the songs on the radio
are so sad its so sad feeding on the songs of lonely hearts why do we always have to end up like that its so sad I'm so sad

if it was a story from a fairytale
Will you be my princess and the end is clear
I raise my head high for your stars

Wake up its time to get up
No they won't rip your head off
This song was written just for me
and dedicated to you
Be strong don't ever look down
This world will always let you down
This song was written just for me
and dedicated to you

Do you feel lucky or depressed?
I guess I never should have asked It's your fault it's my fault
My enemies are dying from my disease
Maybe i should worn them Or leav it as it is Go to hell or save yourself

If it was a story from a fairytale
Will you be my princess and the end is clear
I raise my head high for your stars
Wake up its time to get up
No they won't rip your head off
This song was written just for me
And dedicated to you
Be strong don't ever look down
This world will always
let you down
This song is really just for me
and dedicated to you

And if you really want to know
I wonder if you'll ever know
I will be the same as you found me
And I will do the same if you like it or not Maybe I'm afraid to see The truth's not good for me
I will be the same as you found me
And I will do the same if you like it or not

After party coming home
Why all the songs on the radio
Are so sad it's so sad
Feeding on the songs of lonely hearts
Why do we always have to end up like that?
It's so sad I'm so sad
