the way i felt like i was over you the way i felt like i was getting through i've been wishing you'd stay believing something i heard you say i will not falter and i won't sway the way i seem to stumble into this the way you drive me crazy with just one kiss

i've been looking around reaching for something to up this down the way you are is what i'll miss

the way you breathe and i just fall apart the way you answer me just breaks my heart we might stumble, but then we always start and this is how i'll wait
this is how i'll wait
this is how i'll wait for you i'm doubled over sick in love with you wish i did not know all of the things i do

looking for something to up this down

the way you answer me just breaks my heart
and this is how i'll wait
