the pain is deep but i am numb the walls crash down but i only look on your voice is faded it makes me weak to see there is nothing real here to keep this is hell i am alone
no one is here to see the pain
i am alive waiting to die
no one is there to hear the pain the fire that burns me tears me apart i'm like a gost you can not see what else is there for me i can not seem to find a way to die the stabs of innocencs eat me away on the ground i rott i do not give in
no one is here to see the pain
in hell i am alone no one is here to watch me suffer i slowly fade as i think of life and how it passed me by
