

Sean Smith "Losing Home"

Visit "Losing Home" on MotoLyrics.com

It's such a losing game,
But we all continue to play
As if it the sunniest day.

That we walk into,
I'm kind of different
By the same rules
And I'm lost in that love
Find a straight game.
In the morning.

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.
Nothing short of a grand revolution.

So don't worry about your decision,
Just carry on with your mission
Spreading life through the other dimension
Giving fight with your best intention.

I'm like a sheep,
In a darkened room
With no place to call their own
We've been wondering through,
The ceiling

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.
Nothing short of a grand revolution.

So don't worry about your decision,
Just carry on with your mission
Spreading life through the other dimension
Giving fight with your best intention.
(Break)

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.
Nothing short of a grand revolution.

So don't worry about your decision,
Just carry on with your mission
Spreading life through the other dimension
Giving fight with your best intention.

Giving fight with your best intention.
Giving fight with your best intention.
Giving fight with your best intention.

(Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.

Mother Earth is calling your attention.
She's calling for another intervention.
We've got to work on a solution.)

Visit Sean Smith page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.