I wonder should
I pull my courage out and say it
Would you be scared
And think different of me now
Would that break it?

Every time you call
Though we talk so long
I say nothing at all.

Is it just me
Has my mind been running wild
Through a dreamland
Where you might care
More for me than you show
Am I stupid?

Every time I call
Though we talk so long
I say nothing at all.

I'm more naive
Than I would like to be
Were you joking
Did I miss cues
Miss my most important lines
Of the whole scene.

Every time you call
I'm against the wall
I fight myself.

Every time you call
I'm against the wall
I say nothing at all
Every time I call
Though we talk so long
I say nothing at all...
