"But Where Are You?"

All alone I am yearning to be with you again
For a spark is still burning, it will ever remain
But I'm yearning in vain

The moon is high, the sky is blue
And here am I, but where are you?

A night like this was meant for two
And I am here, but where are you?

Have you forgotten
The night that we met?
With so much to remember
How could you forget?

The dreams I dream have yet to come true
My dreams and I are here, but where are you?
