"Never Jealous"

No, I'm never jealous.
I'm just annoyed with you.
Taking more then you deserve.
I can't help but see right through.
I never want to hurt you,
I just think you ought to know.
Everyone's grown tired,
of your over-drained ego.
It's like you to be paranoid.
It's like you want to get hurt.
You take it all too serious.
You took it too far first.
Jealousy, just might be the explanation.
Mad, cause you can't get all our attention.

You struck first, your truly evil.
You deserve to be ignored.
Hurt me, Cut down realization.
Jealous of new frustration.

I am the one with purest intention.
You are immature suck for attention.
Tension builds to shape your glory.
One true side to every story.
