"Her Uniqueness"

Her shape is so unique...

She is the only one with this exact form...

I long to enjoy this...

Examine her with my hands...

All simultaneously if it were possible...

I will find great peace and tranquillity there...

Every part of her is perfection...

Something special and rare that no other has...

From her eyes to her toes I wander in my mind,
And I am happy in her satisfaction...

Words convey and add sensational dimensions...

Her form in it's deepest detail is relished in my mind,
There to give me endless pleasure...

I can spend many hours there...

Why does she deny herself of this beauty?
