Poetic radiance I dream to write...
Of horse bright white ride through the night...
Home is wherever you may be...
Gods seeds saturate eternity...

Tears of liquid, on soft young face...
Subtle hints forgot in this hard place...
So long in wonder, remember me...
Into my world please - follow we...

Do not cry or hide from fear...
Patient courage summon here...
Though in time I may fall and rise...
Bless me that in grace I ride...

Our world we touch as are held...
Feel mother clutch her newborn self...
Transience lost as our world shapes...
Angels sculpt our minds from sacred waves...
