Well I'm giving up and its not cause I think I don't belong I've taken from you all that you had to give, its time to move on Why did you have to go so far away, why did you have to go so far away Well I'm giving up and its not cause I think I don't belong I've taken from you all that you had to give, its time to move on Why did you have to go so far away, why did you have to go so far away And I don't know why, I don't know why its so hard to say goodbye I sit and cry these tears for you, I don't know why
