How am I supposed to not think about you
Everyday that I go through
They all suck because of you
And I wonder if you mean anything at all

How am I supposed to not think about you?
Everyday that I go through
They all suck because of you
And I wonder if you mean anything

And I'll try to understand the reasons
I know that I can't be happy with or without you

'Cause every single day I think that I might be through
With all of this it happens every time
It's like you read my mind
I always seem to fall back in

And I'll try to understand the reasons
I know that I can't be happy with or without you

'Cause every single day I'm asking
When will I ever forget to remember?
When will I ever forget to remember your way?

I'll try to understand the reasons
I know that I can't be happy with or without you
