Everytime we try to talk these words are chalk
Get washed away in the rain but I won't break
And we won't dry off it's irritation
So, so long I'm sick of waiting

I fought through a battlefield whoah oh whoah oh
Just to say that I'm sorry to you
Half way there I found a different part of me
I found a different part of you

Trust me dearly I'm sincerely not as trusting as I've been
But I can't help you now (can't help you)
I'm crossing you out - take it all away from me tonight

I fought through a battlefield whoah oh whoah oh
Just to say that I'm sorry to you
Half way there I found a different part of me
I found a different part of you

You never told me that you cared
So I took back these words I swear
You'll never get a word from me now
