"Count On Me"

Visit "Count On Me" on MotoLyrics.com

When you're down at the hole
Nothing works and you feel alone
And nothing seems to work again

So you walk alone again
Nobody gives a helping hand and nobody seems to care at all

When it's the wrong time to do the right thing
When happiness does not fit in
As the raindrops fall on your back
You can count on me tonight

The sidewalks that were our home
Summer nights down at the hop
We had nothing else bout ourselves

So when the storm is near
When the hell is something real
I'm gonna stay just here, next to you

When it's the wrong time to do the right thing
When happiness does not fit in
As the raindrops fall on your back
You can count on me tonight
