Don't you ever wonder,
"What will happen when it ends?"
How can we let go of the,
The ones who we call friends
And I know it's only a story,
But for so many it's more than that
It's a world all on it's own
Where we want to put on that sorting hat

And I will miss the train ride in
And the pranks pulled by the twins
And though it's nowhere I have been,
I'll keep on smiling,
From the times I had with them

Could there ever be again,
Another one like this?
One that's brought us together
And started it's own music movement

So I will miss the train ride in
And the pranks pulled by the twins
And though it's nowhere I have been,
I'll keep on smiling,
From the times I had with them

Soon we will see Hallows
The final chapter exposed
It's the end of an era
And I'm seeing clearer
Nothing will ever be the same

So I will miss the train ride in
And the pranks pulled by the twins
And though there's nowhere I have been,
I'll keep on smiling,
From the times I had with them (X9)
From the times we had with them (X2)
You and me
The times we had
The times we had with them

So don't you ever wonder
What will happen when it ends
