

Oliver Boyd And The Remembralls

"Open At The Close"

Visit "Open At The Close" on MotoLyrics.com

I've figured out all the pieces and
It now makes sense to me.
My future has been set in stone,
And this end must come.
For this must be done.
I cannot let them die in vain.
They fought by my side
And fell with their pride.
One a brother, lived with all his wit.
Another taught me life, and how to deal with it.

So I'll walk alone and face this truth.
Mum, I'm coming home, home to you.
No goodbyes this time, and no kisses too.
Ginny, please don't cry.
Know I'll always love you.

Memories run through my mind
And it's comforting me.
This is it, there's no more to say.
Just a waiting game as he takes his aim.

So I'll walk this alone and face this truth.
Mum, I'm coming home, home to you.
No goodbyes this time, and no kisses too.
Ginny, please don't cry.
Know I'll always love you.

X2

I've figured out all the pieces and
It now makes sense to me...

Visit Oliver Boyd And The Remembralls page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.