We play like kids in summertime
Under the blankets at night
Everything forgotten when your in sight
Don't you see their envy

Lets go get lost in woods for a while
And hope that they never find where we hide
Forget the world, we'll be just fine
Just runaway with me

I would do anything, just to keep you by my side
I would do anything, just to have you here tonight

So far from home now
But you are my lighthouse
And just know those stars that you see
Well that you see, they are looking right back at me
So far from home now
But you are my lighthouse
And just know those stars that you see
Well that you see, they are looking right back at me

It was like dark turning to light
The moment that you walked through the door that night
Both of our attention focused tight
Did you see their envy

They say people wait whole lives
To find a love burning so bright
So glad I have you by my side
And you ran away with me

I would do anything, just to keep you by my side
I would do anything, just to have you here tonight

So far from home now
But you are my lighthouse
And just know those stars that you see
Well that you see, they are looking right back at me
So far from home now
But you are my lighthouse

And just know those stars that you see
Well that you see, they are looking right back at me

Oh, we are the ones
Don't you know we're having fun
Don't you know we have
Oh, we are the ones
Don't you know we're having fun
Don't you know we have
