As I hear the Mocking birds, I remember the words

When you said, that forever you'd love me

Now happiness is gone, memories linger on

From the chains of our love, I set you free

Sweet as the morning, smile like the sunshine

Ours was a love no words could tell

I love you, oh how I miss you

Won't you come back, Lily Dale

Since we have said good bye, I'm so blue, I could cry

Happiness is a thing called the past

Days without you, make my nights, oh, so blue

And always in my heart, our love will last

Sweet as the morning, smile like the sunshine

Ours was a love no words could tell

I love you, oh how I miss you

Won't you come back, Lily Dale

Won't you come back, Lily Dale?
