"Bend Or Break"

It might take years for you to miss me
Truth is, I'm alone in this city
I'm broke (hey)
I'm going to wait
I just deal with things in my own way
So please know you're my only ambition
I agree that we needed intermission
But one day, we're going to say
"we've got each other, ok"

Can we stop pretending
That the world is never ending
Will you try to find a way to believe?

But I don't think you're gonna change
So you'll be the one to bend
I'll be the one who breaks

Right now seems time is the reason
Another day, another week, another season
New year (hey)
New me (hey)
It's not much but I know that we've both changed
Wanna be real fake try to pretend?
Maybe you, maybe me, baby we can
Try some day, we could say
"we've got each other, ok"
