And all along we knew it all
We watched it fly, we watched it fall
The world still turns, we dance atop
Balance a tightrope till we drop

But do we know what breaks the fall

Turning a deaf ear to the violences, will not silence them

Screaming her prayer, while we forsake her
Our actions drain her, while we forsake her
We won't admit

Day by day we live in it
Walk and talk and don't do shit
Walk away from opportunities
Bear the cross but don't commit

Screaming her prayer, while we forsake her
Our actions drain her, while we forsake her
We won't admit

And all along we knew it all
We watched it fly, we watched it fall
The world still turns, we dance atop
Balance a tightrope till we drop

But do we know what breaks the fall

And we won't admit, trying to dismiss
She screams her prayer, taking our shit
And she warns us with the light of stars
It's looking great, but it came too late
