Monday through friday, the world's the same
Bustin' their tales and making a name
Go to work, go to school, don't play the fool
Pleasure's the payoff and money's the tool
Sweatin' all week for a dollar's gain
Living for the weekend to drown the pain

Life is more than what it seems
Open your eyes and start to dream
I scream sunday

All week long god's people the same
Living in the world and hiding the flame
Working like drones in the world's hive
Is it god or mammon for which we strive
The world's way is push and shove
Are we pushing back or showing love

Life is more than what it seems
Open your eyes and start to dream
Sunday's her and i have to scream
Living for jesus is my theme
I scream sunday

Monday i mourn the world in pain
Tuesday's tears fall a bitter rain
Wednesday i whisper a prayer in grief
Thursday i thirst for some relief
Friday finds me on my face
Saturday sees me cry for grace
I scream sunday

Life is more than what it seems
Open your eyes and start to dream
Got no secret, got no scheme
I get my strength from the living stream
Sunday's here and i have to scream
Living for jesus is my theme
I scream sunday
I scream sunday
I scream sunday
