Holding on to memories of what keeps you broken inside
Pick up the pieces to your unforgiven heart
Nothing can be undone this war is yours
Now is the time to move on

The chains that bind you are holding you back
Your chance to shine is now
Don't let anyone tell you differently
Your chance to shine is now

You've never been so afraid of the past
This isn't what you thought it would be
So just forget it

You will never
Be Forgotten

The final time to say these things is now
Don't think about the things that you have done before

Say goodbye to the past and make room for your future

Forget all the things you're gonna leave behind
They're all worthless now
Now is the time to fight and use all your might Your goals are in your grasp

The chains that bind you are holding you back
Your chance to shine is now
Don't let anyone tell you differently
Your chance to shine is now

You've never been so afraid of the past
This isn't what you thought it would be
So just forget it now
