I don't want to be seen
The guy with no self esteem
All the dreams of getting far
All the nights with an acoustic guitar
A Place that's build up on steel
A search for something that's real
Leave all the things that I've done
And look for somewhere to run

When will I find a place, a place to call my own
When will I take a stand, life goes on and on and on
How can I go somewhere, I've never gone before
And will I feel you there, will I feel you there

Growing up is a pain in the ass
Not free, school burns like tear gas
All the girls act the same
But who the fuck should we blame?
I'm young fucked up and scared
Got no job I don't care
This system ain't got my trust
I'm trying but I get lost

When will I find a place, a place to call my own
When will I take a stand, life goes on and on and on
How can I go somewhere, I've never gone before
And will I feel you there, will I feel you there, will I feel
you there

When will I find a place, a place to call my own
When will I take a stand, life goes on and on and on
How can I go somewhere, I've never gone before
And will I feel you there, will I feel you there, will I feel
you there
