There's a little queen
Of the animated screen;
Wait 'til you, get a view of Sweet Betty!

Made of pen and ink,
She can win you with a wink;
Wait 'til you, get a view of Sweet Betty!

Those eyes, that pretty nose,
Although aside from these, she's got so much of those!

If you want to see
Just a perfect little she,
Wait 'til you, get a view of Sweet Betty!

There's the moon, 'way up high,
Here are you and here am I,
Oh, do, do, do, something!
Boop-oop-a-doop!

It's been told and explained,
That nothing tried is nothing gained!
Oh, oh, come on, please, do something!
Boop-oop-a-doop!

I've got the time and the place,
And the place and the time, I know,
I've got a bench and a park,
And a park with a bench and all,
Boop-oop-a-doop!

Sitting around seems so dumb,
Hurry, dear, I'm getting numb,
Oh, do, do, do, boop-oop-a-doop-a-doop,
Boop-oop-a-doop!

During this performance, the ringmaster starts drooling over Betty, and he follows her to her dressing room. He engulfs her with his enormous body, and asks, "Do you like your job?" He paws her leg; she squeals and slaps him, and starts singing:

You can feed me bread and water,
Or a great big bale of hay,
But don't take my boop-oop-a-doop away!

You can say my voice is awful,
Or my songs are too risqu,
Oh, but don't take my boop-oop-a-doop away!
