Do you remember those days? When we were teenagers
And got high on toxic fluids and flavors
Life was exciting while listening to dirty rock'n'roll Hey, even when we were kids, it was all about losing control

Life takes you down
Life takes you down
And all we want is to get up, and get high

Do you remember that guy? The one with the darkest mind

Ow we all felt bad, whenever he was around
How he used to explode, when you least expected
And then disappeared, back into isolation

Life takes you down
Life takes you down
Life takes you down
When all we want is to get up, and get high
