i truly loved ya
i saw the tears in your eyes and still i did adore ya for the ways you filled me in and after that i truly lived ya
in the past i do and then you came in and you would say we would sees the day and that all worries, all worries fade away and we would meet some guys.. with the best hairstyles.. we would have the time of our lives we were young we were never apart true soul mate hearts we were having fun but it was more than that you could read my mind i truly called ya
every day for eight years and then i told ya every little mental fear and after that i died a bit cause those were the days the joy of my life remember that and now we are older, but i will never forget, how could that do that ? (x3)
