Would you make a wish tonight if you saw a falling star
Would you like for happiness to shower right down where you are
Could be the things we have to suffer become the way to find the other

Oh, we've got to live with the agony and the glory
With the pain and joy we can learn to rejoice and embrace both sides of the story
Not a single moment goes to waste if it works to make you holy
Let the Spirit have His way with you through the agony

embrace both sides of the story
Not a single moment goes to waste if it works to make
you holy
Let the Spirit have His way with you through the agony

Through the pain and joy we can learn to rejoice and
embrace both sides of the story
Not a single moment goes to waste if it works to make
you holy
Let the Spirit have His way with you through the agony
and the glory

embrace both sides of the story
Not a single moment goes to waste if it works to make
you holy
Let the Spirit have His way with you through the agony
and the glory

With the pain and joy we can learn to rejoice and embrace both sides o
