All I know is that I'll probably never go away
X-ray vision and a dialect of what was her face
Another moment where we never even knew our names
And I could barely count the fingers on your hand that day
We are underneath the sky, shooting bottle rockets
And you're looking up at me
Don't dry your eyes on my sleeve tonight
You need a reason to stay with me

Her name I can't recall, through walls in empty bathroom stalls
Unplug the cord, I'm bored, your account is safely secured
Remember me, I'm truly, fashionably uncontrollable
Cause I am controlled by words

We are underneath the sky, shooting bottle rockets
And you're looking up at me
Don't dry your eyes on my sleeve
You need a reason to stay with me

Woah x7

Remember movies,
Remember drive ins,
Remember hanging with friends.
We never wanted,
Never wanted to begin,
Another day without seeing anyone that we knew.
I knew you knew. 'What I could do?'

Ahh man sound so shitty that it made me loose my mind
