Don't start with me
I don't wanna hear it
You like the beat, don't give a damn about the lyrics
One thing is clear, while all the rest of it is blurry
Got to get out in a hurry

She's all mine when there's no one else around
Young girl get out of my mind
She's all gone when she blends into the crowd
My love's a train that can stop on a dime

Like the light beaming out of the fast food sign
Or a face on the TV Guide
Toni Braxton didn't write Un-Break My Heart
And her boyfriend didn't die

Large as life when she's knows it's not allowed
Young girl get out of my head
Cold hard stare and she shrinks back down
This is a choice I could live to regret, but...

Spoken in rumors
Hand over mouth
She's a late bloomer
He's a dirty old man

Like a girl all alone by the bust stop sign
After school asking for a ride
A piece of ass with a couple of bucks for gas

No rides for free I don't want to hear it
It's more about keeping up appearances
Don't talk to me it only makes me ramble
I hear it now like an overused sample
Mademoiselle with her panacea turns into la jeune fille

She's a spy for a non-existent land
Bonjour, Ca va Oui Ca va
A bird in the bush is worth two in the hand
My love's a word and my word is au revoir

Silently smiling

An inside joke
I'll have a Red Stripe
She'll have a Coke

Like a fan reading in between the lines
Or a kid buying merchandise
No doubt just a girl who's acting out

Don't start with me
I don't wanna hear it
You like the beat, don't give a damn about the lyrics
One thing is clear, while all the rest of this is blurry
Got to get out in a hurry

Tough luck indeed I'm not going near it
I need a lift but I'm attracted by the cynics
One thing appears when nothing else emerges
Got to control my urges

Like the night that you looked at me and smiled
Over a song by a friend of mine
All these words are a thinly veiled disguise
But the beat's still on time

She's all mine when there's no one else around
Young girl get back into line
She's all gone when she blends into the crowd
My love's a thing that is still undefined
