I'm getting bored with this culture and these old traditions
I'm getting bored with this people and their boring ideals

All the real songs never get heard and all the real art is worth nothing
All the real words never get heard and everything remains the same

I'm getting bored with this culture where everything remains the same
I'm getting bored with this people they all remain the same

Stop the cycle
Make progression
Yeah

Stop the cycle
We have rules to break!;
