Thinking about the night that we've shared together
Been awhile but the memories still linger on my mind
Did you ever have to go away?
Will you ever come back to me someday?

If this is all that we are ever gonna be
Will you promise that you'll keep the memory?
Of all the kisses and the passion that we've had
I will cherish al the things abuot your love

Sometimes it's hard to understand
We just couldn't say it
Had to bear the loneliness each night and day
Did you ever think of me at times
Of the moments that have gone by
