I don't know, I just think that's hell exploitive You know, taking these metaphors and just butchering... icons in the urban community. I don't know, it's like you sucking em dry, what are you some kind of a vampire or something? Yeah yeah that's what you are, what ahh what a ghetto vampire, that's it.
So where'd all this come from? Think back Try to remember... think back... try to remember...

I used to sit at the right hand of God in light and splendor Lavishly spreading love that's all I remember As time passes I catches miracles he taught me everything except for some old man and breathe the breath of life
I tried, to just accept he's my savior
But jealousy forced me into sacrilegious behavior Enraged like I was no threat I hated God's laughter Waiting for the day the apprentice becomes the master I'm cursed and damned now to be a creature of the night Unliving yet living off blood, fearer of the light
But I don't give a FUCK right, because I live forever I see you all come and go and die and burn and watch the world still turn Evil entity, time is resenting me
Thousands of years later I must conceal my identity
A vampire echoes

Arrraahhaaa-hahahahahaha!!!

New heights, where it's so dark you need candlelights
To expose the black plague my left hand writes Nights enveloping and developing pictures in your brain like a darkroom, in every monestary where I spark boom
A cartoon style smile smirk, how's my emotionless killer clown synapse behaps relax the bastard black balloon Nocturnal, high off the herbal, crowding back streets and projects

Illest nigga, coolest slang dialects (dialects) Bite marks are what you feel if you're my victim Poisons golden seal couldn't heal from your system (from your system)
Nuts bust down the throats of mad crack heads Fetal four-eye pleas, fuck it cops kill black kids Sometimes I wish I could stop the death the pain and the sin but I'm fucked up create the libations that humans contain within (nasty) After lightning strikes the steeple of your family church
I beg forgiveness from God, but it never works I know my soul ain't going to heaven when I expire
Recognize... the immortal ghetto vampire
I slit your throat and watch you shake if I desire
Recognize... the immortal ghetto vampire
Bear witness to the sins of wicked messiah
Recognize... the immortal ghetto vampire
Who can I speak to God is dead and the whole earth's on fire
Recognize... the immortal ghetto vampire

Running from the sun by day it's become quite obvious to the people surrounding me I'm the wildest Untamable blood-luster plus the high school yearbook photos that I took in eighty-nine, show no sign of a face of mine Intertwined my mind is a jungle full of cobwebs and tangled vines and a glass mace even my closest friends are becoming afraid
Of how I, predicting what's happening and events Prom dates found they're punctured, blood left pleading then lynched That's just how I fucking express myself
When I consume your blood and leave you dead sorry it's just to keep my health Dark forces, police get nauseous from my trail of corpses
No stake through my heart, no holy water, and no priest with crosses A woman's mind gets clouded by my handsome mannerisms
Listen obsessions bigger than Jackie Gleason's aneurysms
You caught up when my piercing eyes stare right through you Stronger than the straightest greatest ancient Haitian voodoo

My unholy presence disturbs animals and children built a sacrificial altar behind an abandoned building My sense of smell is heightened my sight is razor sharp Serene that's thorazine when I remove your beating heart bump, bu-bump, bu-bump, bu-bump
And then the blood starts, flowing Now I got your soul without you even knowing Lying in a staircase covered in piss, body decomposing
I turn on sirens and I perpetuate gang violence I'm the devil that got Malcolm X sleeping in silence Factual I poison anything that's natural I kill love and I'm hope frozen up just like it's a statue Vampires walk among us sucking life from our city Keeping us in constant states of insecurity
The police watch em... they know me ghetto vampire
The government check em... they know me ghetto
vampire
Churches and ministries... they know me ghetto
vampire
Niggaz slangin that shit... they know me ghetto vampire Money hungry bitches... they know me ghetto vampire
The whole school system... fucking ghetto vampires
The fucking media... they know me ghetto vampires Now who's the vampire?
