Walking down the hall, we walked right by
When I look back and so do you
I know I've seen your face before
I knew I've seen your face before
There's a feeling settled through
Up until the night I feel this way
When I go back, I see that you're not there
When I don't see anyone, I sense despair
I know I've seen your face before
I know I've seen your face before
There's a feeling settled through
When I go back and you're not there
I see no one, I sense despair
Retrace my steps, nothing I can do
There's a feeling settled through
