(music: Laihiala & Sentenced, Lyrics: Laihiala)
I've dragged myself through the blood and mud and with burning eyes pushed the love away...
No I'm not the kind of man who'd play for keeps...
The enchantment lies in the moment of goodbyes
For eternity...
My sun has set down
I dream to flee...
As I suffer "the black" bleed in me
I regret every single day I've ever lived in my life
I gave all I had in me... so it's time to say Goodbye
The breath of wind beneath my beating wings
is slowly dying down...
Yet raging its final blow!
As it crumbles down... my castle in the air
The relieving words of farewell end my earthly Hell
For eternity...
My sun has set down
It has ceased to be...
The lightning that once burned in me
I regret every single day I've ever lived in my life
I gave all I had in me... so it's time to say Goodbye
