

Brad Lebakken

"City Lights"

Visit "City Lights" on MotoLyrics.com

She's been here before and stares across the table
Her only friend is what's left inside a bottle Still hope is not so far away, and love wants to heal all
the shame

Under city lights, under city lights
So easy to hide in these city lights

Addiction takes its toll your left without a reason And fighting this alone has only made wounds deepen
Still hope is not so far away, and love wants to heal all
the shame

Under city lights, under city lights
So easy to hide in these city lights

Were lying of the hurt we bare and hiding behind smiles
We wear we feel alone, you feel alone Admitting all the weaknesses and faults and failures through the years
And reaching out, you're no longer alone

Still hope is not so far away, and love wants to heal all
the shame
(still hope is not so far away), (and He will wash your sins away)

Under city lights, under city lights
So easy to hide in these city lights
These city lights

Visit Brad Lebakken page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.