Help me to understand this grace that you'd forgive someone like me
You know the secrets that we hide; still You would draw us to your side

You say, I died to draw you close and make you free

New eyes are helping me to see, the one thing no one can take from me
You give this understanding from above, I pray to accept this gift of love

You say I'll heal you, embrace you, be with you, through all this life brings I'll love you, and teach you, and turn you, away from all your sin
I'll heal you, embrace you, be with you, through all this life brings I'll love you and teach you to be true

New eyes are helping me to see, the one thing no one
can take from me
Forgiveness to anyone is free to those who trust in thee

I feel your forgiveness shine on me, its breaking through the lies I've told And breaking through the sins that hold

New eyes are helping me to see, the one thing no one
can take from me
Forgiveness to anyone is free to those who trust in thee, oh
