The light hits my eyes one at a time
And I cannot find some peace tonight
I've looked for a reason in the night
I cannot find my strength it falls away
But you're by my side so faithfully

And I can remember times in life knowing you walked right by my side
Just when I thought you'd gone away
You show me it's my heart that has strayed

So capture my heart and capture my soul
The hopes that I need is in You alone
Bring me to love that I might know Where I should
Where I should go?

And you know the pain I will fight hurt and lonely nights
The heart break that makes me doubt all your might But Your light tonight makes me see what's right I'm not alone
No not on my own

Help me to find your peace tonight
