you wanna leave it all behind

i get up but i keep on falling down i can hear a storm without a sound ive been told to slow dance all around but i wake up on my own ano your lies are becoming true and your promising you made keep falling through and nothing in the world makes sense but you you better help me understand

take a little time baby dont you worry
take a little time and i need piece of mine baby your the road that leads me home you keep my heart from turning to stone you told me that ill never walk alone

you better take a little time

????

take a little time and i need a piece of mine
