1st I use to be a lucky guy
Now I just can't win
Was constantly wetting my appetite
Had twenty four girlfriends
Then one come's along with a love
That's so strong, but she's goin out with him
Friday nights played out and the suns setting

I use to be clever I thought I was smart
Going in undetected and somehow that all fell apart
So tonight I'm playing the part of a fool
Won't you listen to me, listen to me

2nd Now some other guy has taken my place
How could things go so wrong
She holds the key to my everything
Good times they don't last to long
One day she was with me, the next she was gone
It's so hard to forget it
Friday nights played out and the suns setting

3rd This time tomorrow I hope to have her back again
If third times a charm she'll be taking my hand
For she's all ready under my skin
Never the moment like this should arise
And how could I have let it
Friday nights played out and the sun's setting

I use to be clever I thought I was smart
Going in undetected and somehow it all fell apart
So tonight I'm playing the part of a fool
Won't you listen to me, listen to me

Now This time tomorrow I hope to have her back again
If third times a charm she'll be taking my hand
For she's all ready under my skin
Moments await but I missed it to late
She's going out again
Friday nights played out
Friday nights all she's talking about
Friday night

Friday night
Friday nights played out and the suns setting
Yea The suns setting
Yea the suns setting
