alright
we'd like to thank everybody for coming out here tonight you know, we have a little story I want to tell here about how my day went started off with some complications but you know everydays filled with complications but people just have to deal with it but my complication... its something that's been bothering me now maybe I should tell ya'll about it sounds something like this...

woke up this morning got out of bed went to the street now hanging your head walk into the practice and be hanging out getting ready to tear some music gonna rock it all out

Paulo's microphone

we started to start jamming started rocking out (vc tãfÂfâ, ñ gravando essa porra?)
the music started flowing it started coming all out (Filha da Puta) only one big problem baby the microphone was broke couldnt record that music the songs had blown the 'phone

you know it could be... Paulo's microphone he told me that shit was Sony that shit could never break but we lost all the music around a quarter to eight (Filha da Puta) and now we just keep flowing we wont let it stop you know its gonna happen with Paulo's microphone

Paulo's microphone!
this shit is broke again
