Men is not alone in this world and
Mankind's not completely absurd
Breaking men ground to build and to grow
Advancing their lives for better or worse

In a world growing fast, we're losing touch
Cultivating hate and forging rules
Closing our eyes, we search the sky
Expectations are from religion

What went wrong?
I don't believe you

It's been around for thousands of years at least
There's nothing new with another catastrophe
A sense to move on is filling the air
Or are we all just [Incomprehensible]

What went wrong?
I don't believe you
What went wrong?
I don't believe you

Men is not alone in this world and
Mankind's not completely absurd
Breaking men ground to build and to grow

Kashmir, Colombia, Rio, New York
Old wars revived to revenge a lost
Taking what's left and burning it down
Creating opposition

What went wrong?
I don't believe you
What went wrong?
I don't believe you

It's not religion
No complication
Just [Incomprehensible]
No
