It was a day like any day
The sun came on but didn't stay
I took a ride, I came back home
But all I found was later on

It was a night like any night
The moon came on, shinning bright
I breathe a sigh, I deeply mourn
But all I found was later on

I go to town almost every day
But I don't stray from my way
Don't lift my eyes to any man
They don't know but think they do

I don't really miss you
I don't need no fool
I don't really miss you
Cause I still have the moon

It was a night like any night
The moon came on, shinning bright
I breathe a sigh, I deeply mourn
But all I found was later on

Boy you have never come back
And I like it like that
You can just keep that little poem
That you stole from my heart

I don't really miss you
I don't need no fool
I don't really miss you
Cause I still have the moon

Cause I still have the moon
Cause I still have the moon
