When I looked in your eyes,
You set off a spark way down deep in my soul
You lit up the places I'd never let anyone go

With the touch of your hand,
You awakened the man that I thought long ago had died
The sound of your voice seemed to ease the demons inside

Gypsy angel
You feel so right
You broke through the wall of my heart
Like a thief in the night
I let down my guard
And I'm layin' my heart on the line

Are you the one I've been waiting for all of this time?
You saw passed the scars, the tattoos and bars
That inprisoned my soul

You gave me a gift more precious than diamonds or gold
Saw past the man that I was
You saw me for the man that I could be The peace I paid so much to find, I knew I'd found it for free

Gypsy angel
You feel so right
You broke through the wall of my heart
Like a thief in the night
I let down my guard
And I'm layin' my heart on the line

Are you the one I've been waiting for all of this time?
Are you the one I've been waiting for all of this time?
