Rayella's Song

Stars are painted faces in shadows at dawn.
We're strangers to fantasy
The best seller never sells

She sang of hiding places and scars healed in words
Writing for her life
Calling for the One
Writing for her life
Calling for the One

Words fall and shatter and cold stars lose their light
We're praying for miracles, but no one's left there to remember.

The songs Rayella sings are not sung for me!

How can you complain
there's no one left for you
You try so hard to deny what's here never seeing that I'm here too.

Laughing to forget
Trying to remember
Laughing to forget
Crying to remember.
