Your diamonds shine, and you're hearts on the table
You're all that's on my mind I'd better join the club
And what's in my hand, I can't let go
I gotta hold on now until you show

My heart is racing
Cause it's the turn that we're facing
And there's so much I'm placing on the line

And in this game called life
You take the bad with the good
And when nothings going right
What made you think it would

My heart is racing
Cause it's the turn that we're facing
And there's so much I'm placing on the line

And all the times I said I'm sorry
Will never take the pain away, away no, away

Your diamonds shine, and my hearts on the table
You're all that's on my mind I'd better join the club

My heart is racing
Cause it's the turn that we're facing
And there's so much I'm placing on the line
