Heavenly is how I feel
And I wonder is it real
Here do I belong, confused
How I get here, I can't find

When I watch you smile
All the butterflies inside me
Take another direction
When you see me home at night
And you're calling back in confession
To tell me you love me

And so I wonder if I'm right
That every day you make my sun arise
I don't wanna lose you
You're for life
I'm your femme fatale
So you tell me
I'm your stolen beauty
In a life that happens only once
It's calling me
And heaven knows it's right

Undeniably brand new
I'm undetachable from you
I've forgotten all my past
There is no other who can match
When you look at me
You can make me feel that these moments
Will last forever
When you're touching me
And I'm trembling to be closer
As close as we can be
