Just a little quiet time
A time to sort out all my memories
And the details of each moment
Just a little look behind
The way you get to me
The butterflies ran riot
And my heart went into a crisis

I've been thinking about you
And how you changed my mind
I've been thinking about you
The revolutionary
I've been thinking about you
And the difference that you made
The fairytales you make
You turn my world around

Just a little time to think
How time's been running on
You're still here like a lifeline
And the heartbeat's getting stronger
Just a little light in me
That seems to switch on when you're near me
I am powered by your presence and your laughter

I've been thinking about you
And how you changed my mind
I've been thinking about you
The revolutionary
I've been thinking about you
And the difference that you made
The fairytales you make
You turn my world around

I've been thinking 'bout how I came around
I've been thinking that you never let me down
I've been thinking about you
