You hope that something will happen
But you're stuck with what you've got
In a maze you're lost, thinking of things that are not Real enough to make things different
Though I don't know what it means
Confused and mixed up when everything's deep
And I don't know what it means
And I don't know why, I don't know why

What you got, serenity
What is not deep
Your mind is ripe, your mind is weak
Can't stop, it's just so deep

You change while everyone else is still the same
Therapy is quite the road to take Especially when you're in such a state
That the ones you love are the ones you hate
You crack a smile when you don't understand
The touch of a loved one's hand
I don't know why,
Instead of laughing you sit there and cry
What you got, serenity
What is not deep
Your mind is ripe, your mind is weak
Can't stop, it's just so deep

And I don't know why
And I don't know why
And I don't know why
And I don't know why
And I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why

I don't know why

What you got, serenity

What is not deep

Your mind is ripe, your mind is weak

Can't stop, it's just so deep
