I never knew you before
I never seen that sweet smile
Or those eyes that dazzled from about a mile away
I never smelt that sweet scent
That followed you everywhere you went
Or even had the chance to call you mine
Now I look back in regret
At all the missed hours I spent
Watching my life just pass me by
Now your with somebody new and there's nothing I can do
Just sit back and watch you smile
It's like everywhere I go
I know your always gonna be there
But you don't see me there
As I try to walk by you all you ever seem to do
Is move away from there
Now I look back in regret
At all the missed hours I spent
Watching my life just pass me by
Now your with somebody new
and there's nothing I can do
Just sit back and watch you smile
