I never knew you before I never seen that sweet smile or those eyes are dazzled from about a mile away I never smelt that sweet scent that followed you everywhere you went or even had the chance to call you mine

Now I look back in regret at all the missed hours I spent watching my life just pass me by Now you're with somebody new and there's nothing I can do just sit back and watch you smile
I.....watch you smile
I.....watch you smile

It's like everywhere I go I know you always gonna be there but you don't see me there as I try to walk by you all you ever seem to do is move away from there

Now I look back in regret at all the missed hours I spent watching my life just pass me by now you're with
somebody new and there's nothing I can do just sit
back and watch you smile
I.....watch you smile
I.....watch you smile

Now I look back in regret at all the missed hours I spent watching my life just pass me by now you're with
back and watch you smile
I.....watch you smile
I.....watch you smile
