Spare me the night trampled upon by submission

A mask within one's own inhibition

Where the only prohibition is love

Spare me the night trampled upon by submission

A mask within one's own inhibition

Where the only prohibition is love

Love

Children out cry, grandfather sky

Rivers surviving through our eyes

We certify, how you falsify

The beauty of a moth turned butterfly, butterfly

Spare me the night trampled upon by submission

A mask within one's own inhibition

Where the only prohibition is love

We are being sacrificed by our own suspicions

We are being sodomized by repetitions

Oceans calcified, eagles gratified

I won't be crucified nor terrified, I'm not terrified

Before we say goodbye, no need to falsify

The beauty of a moth turned butterfly, butterfly

Spare me the night trampled upon by submission

A mask within one's own inhibition

Where the only prohibition is love

We are being sacrificed by our own suspicions

We are being sodomized by repetitions

We are being sacrificed by our own suspicion

We are being sodomized by repetition

Dark gray matter of fact sky

Nannies are nights with our half sister moon

Why can't we switch automatically to Eco-centric persuasions?
Why can't we ditch autocracy for Eco-centric persuasions now?

We are being sacrificed by our own suspicions
We are being sodomized by repetition
We are being sacrificed by our own suspicions
We are being sodomized by repetition
